Giving Highlights
Dear Friends,

I was honored to join the OU College of Law staff in August, and I have thoroughly enjoyed meeting and working with our alumni, near and far. I look forward to meeting many more alumni in 2012.

As the cost of a legal education continues to increase, private financial support for student scholarships has become even more critical. We cannot thank our donors enough for their continued support. It has been a year since we first introduced our new annual giving societies, and I am excited to share that we have exceeded our first-year goals. The Dean’s Leadership Circle has 26 members to-date. The Dean’s Second Century Scholarship Society has 29 members. We are well on our way to having 100 giving society members in the next three years.

As OU Law continues to grow and develop, our faculty and staff are working hard to create new ways for alumni to engage with the university and our students. You are welcome to visit the campus anytime, and contact me at (405) 325-8861 or sheridankay@ou.edu if I can ever be of assistance to you.

Thank you again for supporting our annual giving endeavors. We look forward to continued success.

Most sincerely,

Sheridan Samples Haynes

About OU Law's giving societies

As the University of Oklahoma College of Law enters its second century, College leaders are building upon OU Law’s generations of excellence, ensuring the College thrives as a great public law school and continues to train outstanding lawyers who will serve the state and society.

Achieving these objectives requires private support to ensure a quality education and assist students with financial needs. Major endowment gifts are important, but a strong annual giving program is vital. Annual giving provides immediate support for the College of Law and its students each year. OU Law has established two giving societies – The Dean’s Leadership Circle and The Second Century Scholarship Society – to pave the way for future successes.

The Dean’s Leadership Circle

This is a key group of exceptionally committed leaders who have made a three-year annual commitment of $5,000 to the College of Law. Critical to the goal of maintaining and enhancing the quality of a legal education from OU Law, this giving society offers the dean resources to take advantage of exciting opportunities for faculty and students and to support innovative programs to further enrich the OU legal education.

The Dean’s Leadership Circle fund will be available to:
- Send members of OU’s legal teams to annual competitions
- Develop global programs like the International Human Rights Clinic
- Bring in guest lecturers who can provide a unique legal perspective for OU Law students
- Provide special recruitment awards to help OU Law attract top students
- Provide fellowships to allow OU Law students to work for public interest organizations
- Provide faculty awards designed to help OU Law attract, retain and reward outstanding professors

The Second Century Scholarship Society

Members of this giving society will make a three-year annual commitment of $1,500 to the College of Law. This fund provides annual scholarships and will be fully expended each year, having an immediate impact on students. These scholarships, in addition to those provided by endowed scholarship funds presently available to the College of Law, will directly affect and make a difference in the lives of our students.

About two-thirds of OU Law students take out loans to pay for their legal education, which increasingly affects choices they make upon graduation, including steering students away from careers in public service or government.

“As we enter our second century, there has never been a time of greater opportunity,” said Dean Joe Harroz. “Building upon the successes of Dean Emeritus Andrew Coats, we are poised to fulfill the mission of being one of the great state flagship colleges of law. With your help, we will provide a national caliber legal education while providing access and opportunity for those who aspire to service under the law.”

OU Law Society:

An organization of alumni and friends

The OU Law Society keeps alumni connected to both the university and each other. In addition to supporting OU Law both financially and academically, the society hosts happy hours, networking events and luncheons featuring speakers from within the community. Members will also be invited to special College of Law alumni events.

Giving back

Private funding allows the College of Law to develop new and exciting initiatives that give our students exceptional educational opportunities. It also gives the College of Law an opportunity to assist with the financial burden placed on students.

Campus involvement

Members of the OU Law Society have an active presence on campus, allowing students the opportunity to connect with alumni and demonstrating to students the importance of staying involved. In addition, the society provides encouragement to students during finals and graduating third-year students in their transition from students to alumni.

Join OU Law Society

Annual membership fees for recent graduates (three years or less) is $50 and $150 for all other alumni. For more information and to join the OU Law Society, you may contact us by calling (405) 325-8861 or emailing alumni@law.ou.edu. Please visit our website at www.law.edu/alumni.
