The First Auditor estimates for contingent expenses, viz :

For blank books, binding, stationery, printing, books, and labor	$1,200 00
For miscellaneous items	300 00
	1,500 00

The First Auditor observes, that "no addition to the number of clerks now employed in the office is asked for; but, in order to discharge promptly the duties required, it is indispensably necessary to continue the force now employed. The amount asked for contingent expenses of the office is deemed reasonable, and will be required to meet the current expenses of the office."

No. 6.

The Second Auditor observes, that, "in addition to the present force of the office, I have estimated for an assistant messenger, at $500 per annum, and two watchmen, at $1 per day each. The employment of these persons is, in my opinion, indispensably necessary for the public convenience and the safety of the records of the office."

No. 7.

The Fourth Auditor observes, that "so much of the time of the messenger is every day necessarily consumed in passing, with important papers, between this office and that of the Second Comptroller, which are a considerable distance apart, that an assistant messenger is indispensable to attend upon the various rooms during the absence of the messenger, more especially as a large part of the accounts to which frequent reference is required are obliged to be kept in the attic story of the building. The business of the office must, without such aid, be greatly delayed and obstructed; and the value of the time lost by the clerks exceeds, beyond all comparison, the trifling expenditure proposed for employing an assistant."

The Auditor estimates for contingent expenses, viz :

Stationery, books, and binding.....	$600 00
Printing.....	50 00
Labor.....	100 00

The Commissioner of the General Land Office observes, that "the great increase of business in this office, on account of the Mexican war patents to be issued, the control of the mineral lands, &c., will account for the increased amount of contingent fund asked for, and which has been confined to the lowest possible estimate."

No. 11.

The Attorney General remarks, that "the only appropriation made to the Attorney General's office, for the purchase of law books, was one of one thousand dollars, by the act of May 8, 1840. Nothing has ever been appropriated for books or book-cases since the additions to the library which from time to time has been made, having been so made by savings from the annual appropriations of $500 for contingencies. The library of the Attorney General has been united with that of the Solicitor of the Treasury. Under the appropriation to the Solicitor, made at the last session, he has been completing the reports of the various States, and, it is supposed, will be able to do so. The united library, however, is greatly deficient, and is entirely inadequate for the necessary purposes of the officers of the government. I therefore respectfully request that the appropriation which I have placed in the estimate may be granted."

UNITED STATES MINT.

MINT OF THE UNITED STATES,
Philadelphia, November 2, 1850.

SIR: On the 30th ultimo I sent to the Register of the Treasury estimates of the appropriations which will be required for the mint and branch mints for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1850. I have now the honor to send you copies of these estimates, with the following remarks in regard to them.

The grounds of the estimate for the principal mint are presented in one of the papers enclosed. The only item that may require notice is that for the salaries of clerks. Heretofore there has been an appropriation of $4,400 for four clerks, now we ask $3,600 for three; who, by increased labor, perform all the duties. The new arrangement is made under the terms of the 3d and 7th sections of the mint act of January 18, 1837, with the approbation of the President, as communicated by letter from the department of the 12th of May last.

The appropriations required for the branch mint at New Orleans are founded upon the "grounds of estimates," presented by the superintendent of that mint, and of which a copy is sent enclosed.

The appropriations asked for the branch mints at Charlotte and Dahlonega are the usual amounts, and do not seem to require any explanation.

Very respectfully, your faithful servant;

R. M. PATTERSON, Director.

To HON. R. J. WALKER,
Secretary of the Treasury.

Grounds of the estimates of the mint of the United States, Philadelphia, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1850.

Available balance in the hands of the treasurer of the mint, as per ordinary ledger, September 30, 1848.....	$3,510 00
Profits on copper, to be transferred to the ordinary fund prior to June 30, 1849, estimated	10,000 00
Balance to credit of profit and loss, June 30, 1849, estimated	3,500 00
Appropriations for the current fiscal year, undrawn and available, September 30, 1848.....	49,844 00
Total amount available for the 4th quarter of 1848, and the 1st and 2d quarters of 1849.....	66,854 00
Deduct probable expenses during the same time, viz:
Salaries of officers and clerks.....	$13,800 00
Wages of workmen.....	18,000 00
Incidental and contingent expenses.....	18,000 00
Specimens of ores and coins.....	100 00
Wastage for the whole year, 1848.....	7,000 00
	56,900 00
Probable balance remaining, June 30, 1849, and applicable to the incidental and contingent expenses of the next fiscal year	9,954 00
The expenses of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1850, may be estimated at	71,000 00
Deducting therefrom—
1. The estimated profits on copper, to June 30, 1850	$12,000 00
2. The estimated balance to the credit of profit and loss, June 30, 1850.....	2,500 00
3. The estimated balance June 30, 1849, per statement above	9,954 00
	24,454 00
There will remain, therefore, to be asked, the sum of.....	46,546 00

Tabular statement showing the estimated expenditures, the funds available and in prospect for the same; and the appropriations needed for the difference, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1850, for the Mint of the United States at Philadelphia.

Items of appropriation.	From July 1, 1849, to June 30, 1850, inclusive.
	Total amount of estimated expenditure.	Balance from prior year, and funds accruing.	Appropriations needed for the difference.
Salaries of officers and clerks.....	$18,400 00	$18,400 00
Wages of workmen.....	24,000 00	24,000 00
Incidental and contingent expenses..	28,300 00	$24,454 00	3,846 00
Ores and coins.....	300 00	300 00
	71,000 00	24,454 00	46,546 00

Grounds of the estimates of the branch mint, New Orleans, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1850.

Estimated means and expenses for the 4th quarter of 1848, and the 1st and 2d quarters of 1849 :

Probable means.

1. Available balance in the hands of the Treasurer, September 30, 1848.....	$3,200 00
2. Appropriations undrawn and still available.....	55,375 00
3. Estimated legal deductions from deposits	750 00
	<hr/>
Total of means.....	59,325 00

Probable expenses.

1. Salaries of officers and clerks.....	$9,675 00
2. Wages of workmen	14,000 00
3. Wastage of the whole year 1848	4,500 00
4. Incidental and contingent expenses, including wastage of the year 1847.....	27,150 00
5. Machinery and machinists.....	1,500 00
	<hr/>
Total of expenses.....	56,825 00

Difference, being the probable excess of means over expenses, and which must be deducted from the appropriations for the next fiscal year.....	<hr/> 2,500 00 <hr/>
--	-----------------------------

The items of salaries and wages are specific, and correspond to the appropriations. The above balance of $2,500 is wholly available, therefore, in the other particulars; the appropriations for which must be diminished by this amount in the next fiscal year.

All the expenses of the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1849, including wastage of the year 1847, may be set down at $66,500, with a coinage of about two millions. Assuming that an equal amount of coinage will be effected in the next year following, we must estimate as the expenses of the year ending June 30, 1850, including wastage of the whole year 1849, and deducting also the surplus of $2,500 in the appropriations of the current fiscal year, as shown above, at	$54,700 00
Subtracting therefrom estimated legal deductions from deposits during the year.....	<hr/> 200 00 <hr/>

There will remain to be asked for, to cover the expenses of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1850, namely :

For the half year ending December 31, 1849, which includes wastage of the whole year 1849, and also repairs and new machinery, as above	$30,000 00
For the half year ending June 30, 1850, as per estimate.....	24,500 00
Total to be asked for.....	54,500 00

NOTE.—Item No. 4, (incidental and contingent expenses, including wastage of the year 1847,) in the estimate of probable expenses, as above, is increased by the amount of balance to the debit of profit and loss account, on 31st December, 1847, arising from the wastage claimed by the coiner and melter and refiner for the year 1847. Provision having been made for this purpose in the appropriation for the present fiscal year, a requisition has been made for a remittance of the amount necessary to balance the account.

Specification of appropriations required for the ordinary expenses of the branch mint of the United States, New Orleans, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1850, supplementary to "grounds of the estimates of the branch mint at New Orleans for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1850."

Specifications of appropriations required for the whole fiscal year ending June 30, 1850 :

1. Salaries of officers and clerks.....	$12,900 00
2. Wages of workmen	17,000 00
3. Wastage of whole year 1849	4,500 00
4. Incidental and contingent expenses.....	$21,300 00
Less surplus from last year.....	$2,500 00
Less estimated legal deductions	200 00
	2,700 00
		18,600 00
5. Machinery and machinists.....		1,500 00
		54,500 00
Total appropriations required for the year ending, as above.....		54,500 00

NOTE.—Of the appropriation for wages of workmen for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1848, the sum of $1,500 remains undrawn, and is estimated in the probable means as "appropriations undrawn and still available." If this sum cannot be used during the present fiscal year for "incidental and contingent expenses," then it will be necessary to increase the 4th item (incidental and contingent expenses) of the above specification to $20,100, and diminish the 2d item (wages of workmen) to $15,500. These $1,500 are indispensably necessary for the specific purpose of painting and otherwise repairing the mint building throughout, for the sake of its own preservation from decay. As the amount required for this expenditure is large, the superintendent is desirous that it should be incurred with the previous concurrence of the department.

The warden of the penitentiary says : " It will be observed that the amount asked for in the foregoing exceeds that of the estimates for the fiscal year 1849 about $3,000. The causes of this difference in amount it may be proper for me here to explain. The late warden, Mr. Colman, in making out his estimates for the fiscal year ending 30th June, 1849, anticipated much larger receipts from the labor of the convicts than have been actually realized. He had entered into a contract with the government for furnishing shoes for the navy, which was done, I have no doubt, in good faith and with the best motives ; but, unfortunately for the institution, he was not able, with the number of prisoners employed, to fill the requisitions as made, and the result was that the department had to purchase elsewhere at much higher prices, charging, of course, the institution with the excess, which amounts to nearly $3,000. This would have greatly embarrassed the institution but for the unremitting and united efforts of the clerk and myself to collect the outstanding debts, a considerable portion of which had been due for years ; and, notwithstanding success has crowned our efforts to a considerable extent, I doubt if I shall not be compelled to call on Congress to reimburse the institution to the extent at least of the loss sustained by this contract as necessary to meet the expenses of the present fiscal year. The annexed estimates are actually necessary for the support of the prison."

Washington, October 28, 1848.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 27th instant. Measures will be immediately taken in reference to the construction of the marine hospitals at Natchez and Paducah. The appropriation for each of these hospitals, is 10,000 dollars. Allow me respectfully to suggest the propriety of asking for an additional 20,000 dollars in each case.

I am aware that it has been stated that 25,000 dollars would erect each of these buildings; but, after a careful examination, it appears to me unsafe to say that they will cost less than 30,000 dollars each.

Respectfully sir, your obedient servant,

J. J. ABERT,
Colonel Corps Engineers.

HON. R. J. WALKER,
Secretary of the Treasury, Washington.

CAMP NEAR MIDDLE OF BASE,
Bodies' Island, N. C., November 6, 1848.

SIR: I have the honor to submit in advance of my regular report for the past year, a brief statement of the progress of the survey of the coast under my superintendence, an outline of the work proposed for the next year, and estimates of its cost.

In my report of 1846, I proposed to divide the coast into nine sections of nearly equal extent of shore line, to prepare gradually for the introduction of the work into at least six of these, increasing the estimated general expenditure for the survey of each section, until when the work had received its full development it would amount to about twenty five thousand dollars on the average for each section, with the addition of such general items of expenditure as were required for the office, for vessels, instruments and the like. I proposed also to use steam vessels on the survey. The increase in the amount of work on shore and on the water, it was admitted freely, would increase necessarily the amount of the annual appropriation for the survey, but it was shown that its economy would be greatly increased, the results yielded being in a much larger proportion than the amount expended. The addition of the extensive western coast to the seaboard of the United States, so far, requires no change in this plan, which secures a connected survey of the coast of the distant parts of the Union by the same methods and appliances which have proved effective on the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico.

When the survey is in full activity in any section, the time required to complete the section can be known after a few years of trial, and the survey of the whole coast is reduced then in duration to that of a section if all are under survey at once; or if not, to a longer period, depending upon the number of sections under survey. Six sections have been under survey during the past year, the parties, (exclusive of those working occasionally in the sections,) thirty-six in number, having been distributed as shown in the annexed table. The work provided for the next year is equivalent to full activity in seven sections, including one on the western coast, the expenses of transporting the parties to which, forming a considerable portion of the cost of the survey there for a year, has already been incurred under your direction. The field and office work will thus be carried into every State on the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico, and into the new territory on the Pacific. These seven sections, with the general item including the cost of using four steam vessels, will just come up to my estimates made two years ago, which did not include the cost of using steam. Eight sections could, I am convinced, be kept in activity, if not in full operation, at a cost not exceeding two hundred thousand dollars, and with an economical result better even than that now afforded.

It should be recollected that the estimates for this work include not only the cost of field work, but of the computing, reducing, drawing, engraving, printing and publishing. The cost of the field work alone, (including also some office work not readily separated from it in cost,) is but about five-sevenths of the whole. In 1844, the first year of my superintendence, fifteen field parties were kept up, and the available appropriation for the whole work was about one hundred thousand dollars. In the year 1847-8 thirty-seven parties were kept at work; (not counting those only occasionally employed in certain sections,) the total available means being about one hundred and fifty-five thousand dollars. The field work was thus increased nearly two and a half times, while the expenditure was increased less than one-sixteenth. The office work has increased in a somewhat greater ratio, so that the economical result is even better than that just stated.

The extension of the work has been in the southern sections, where the expenses of each party are much greater than in the northern, and most of the parties have required vessels, instruments, and other outfits, which, although they remain the property of the survey, must be paid for out of the annual appropriations. This will serve in part as a set off to the additional relief to the appropriation from the War and Navy Departments.

I have often introduced the subject of the relative economy of the work in my reports, and have endeavored to show, by comparison from year to year, that increased economy is secured as the operations are extended. It is, however, frequently assumed that a work like this, conducted upon the highest scientific principles, must be expensive, no matter what may be its gain in economy in successive years. It is generally conceded that the survey of an extended coast, like that of the United States, cannot be satisfactorily made except by the employment of the most refined methods of modern mathematics and physics, and these methods it is usually supposed must be very costly in their application.

First a reconnoissance determines the plan of the work, then astronomical observations fix geographically the positions of places, and magnetic observations are made in connexion with them. A base line is measured with the best means which the science of the day presents, on which a triangulation is based with gradually increasing sides, and the primary triangulation checks the results of the secondary work less elaborately executed. The distances between places are thus determined, and the direction of the lines with the meridian, and the latitudes and longitudes of the several station points. The topographical survey which follows represents the outline of the shores, and the roads to the nearest communication by land, land-marks, and all other objects natural or artificial, within the space surveyed, showing upon an accurately projected map absolute positions and directions on the earth's surface, as well as relative positions and distances. Topographical signs define the character of the surface and indicate its slope. Thus far the land work goes, and the hydrographic parties, using the shore line defined by the topography, and the points of triangulation previously determined, make their soundings, which are plotted with an accuracy corresponding to the other parts of the work.

The topographical survey referred to, furnishes what is usually derived from a local survey, namely, a map of a portion of the surface; it gives all the details of the country, which is more than an ordinary land survey presents, and more than is attempted in the surveys of the public lands. It is admitted to be desirable, if not too costly. The cost of one cent and ninety-four mills per acre, ($$12\frac{4}{100}$ per square mile,) stated by the Commissioner of the General Land Office in 1845, from careful averages, to be that of the land surveys to that time, is certainly less than has been paid by other governments for similar work. The estimated cost of six dollars and thirteen cents per lineal mile ($$6\frac{13}{100}$) for 1846 is quite low, and even the maximum cost in some of the land districts of ten dollars and forty-nine cents ($$10\frac{49}{100}$) is beyond a doubt reasonable. It is unnecessary for the present to make a comparison of the results furnished. The cost of the topography of the coast survey in 1847, the year now reported upon, was, exclusive of drawings, one cent and forty-four mills per acre, including the drawings, two cents and fifteen mills per acre; converting the lineal surveys into area by the average proportion deduced from four years, 1844 to 1848, per lineal mile, without drawings, three dollars and forty cents, ($$3\frac{40}{100}$); with drawings, five dollars and ten cents, ($$5\frac{10}{100}$).

As the other operations of the survey are beyond those of ordinary land surveys, they might be expected to add greatly to its cost, and as it is admitted that the work (topography inclusive) derives its highest value from these other results, the question might be turned upon their actual value and not their expense. The geographical determinations of the points and bearings is indispensable to an accurate map, even of a moderate extent of surface. If a map or chart is desirable, it should certainly be constructed on correct mathematical and physical principles. What these results cost, however, is a matter of simple computation, and taking the fiscal year just passed, which is unfavorable, as presenting the measurement of a base, and reconnaissance, and triangulations without topographical work, all of which, with the astronomical and magnetic observations, are included in the estimates, the whole cost per acre, including the topography, is three cents and fifty-two mills without drawings, or four cents and thirty-three mills, with. Per lineal mile, (taking the area as if divided into squares,) the cost of the whole geodetic survey is, with the topographical drawings, eleven dollars and twenty-five cents, ($$11\frac{25}{100}$), and without them, ten dollars and six cents, ($$10\frac{6}{100}$), less than the maximum paid for the surveys of the public lands.

The work thus proves to have a character in reference to expense, the very reverse of what is sometimes attributed to it. It not only furnishes accurate scientific and practical results, but affords them at a very moderate cost. The relief afforded to the coast survey appropriation by the detail of officers of the army, does not sensibly vary the above result in the year referred to, and the officers of the navy are employed in the hydrography, and not on the land work, which forms the subject of comparison.

The estimates for that part of the expenditures of the hydrography which is derived from the coast survey appropriation, pass through the same routine as these for the civil and diplomatic parties. The pay of the officers, and the pay and subsistence of the officers and men are furnished by the Navy Department. The number of officers, and petty officers and men, are regulated by the same department on application from the officers of the navy commanding the hydrographic parties. These are transmitted through the superintendent of the coast survey and Secretary of the Treasury as a matter of form; but the judgment of the officers is conclusive with me, and the requisitions are complied with or denied, at the pleasure of the Secretary of the Navy. The law requires that as many officers of the army and navy as practicable be employed on the work, and independently of the desire to husband the direct appropriation, which, I confess, is a strong motive with me, and of the respect which I feel for the officers of both branches of the service, and of the gratification which official or private intercourse with them always gives, I am bound by the law to make application for officers of the army and navy whenever they can be usefully employed upon the work.

Beside the regular requisitions for the hydrographic parties, the Secretary of the Navy has it in his power, under the same law, to furnish repairs to the coast survey vessels. The liberality of the present Secretary and his immediate predecessor has frequently been shown in this way to the work. This very liberality has induced me to abstain from formal applications for such a purpose, which might seem like a direct solicitation from the Treasury Department, through which my communications take place.

I must be excused for referring here to the very important aid derived from the Treasury Department in the transfer, by your direction, to the coast survey of a part of the steam vessels of the revenue marine, when the use of steam had been abandoned in that service. The moderate speed of these vessels is no objection to their use for surveying purposes, and they may be, I am convinced, used with considerable economy for the deep sea soundings.

The organization of the coast contemplates the employment of civilians, and officers of the army and navy. This triple organization brings the scientific and practical training of civilians and officers of the army and navy in aid of the work, while a more permanent nucleus is supplied from civil life than the wants of either the military or the naval service could yield, while entire concert of action is secured under a central authority, the department in which matters pertaining to the trade, commerce, and navigation of the country centre, in the name and by the authority of which the superintendent acts. The temporary character of the work is recognized as a cardinal principal, no permanent corps being organized to conduct it, a feature which has proved important in other works of the same kind, and which I doubt not has its influence in this. Free scope is afforded for selection from the science of the country at large, or from either branch of the military or naval service, under the heads of their respective departments, of those whom ability, knowledge, and opportunity unite in recommending for the service.

The regular progress of the field work in the different sections, and of the office work, including computations, drawings, engravings, printing, &c., will admit of the following operations, requiring at least the expenditures assigned to them. They are classed, except the usual general item, under the head of the geographical sections. The estimates suppose the usual aid from the War and Navy Departments:

General items.

Rent, fuel, postage, materials for drawing, engraving, and printing, carpenter's work and materials, blank books, stationery, printing, and ruling forms, binding, transportation of instruments, maps, and charts, and miscellaneous office expenses, purchase of new instruments, books, maps, and charts	$14,500
---	----------

SECTION I. Field work.—To extend the primary triangulation in New Hampshire and Maine, eastward, and make the astronomical and magnetic observations connected with it, and to extend the reconnaissance in Maine; to extend the secondary triangulation across Cape Ann into New Hampshire, and to complete that of the western shore of Massachusetts bay. To complete the topography of Cape Cod, and of part of the western shore of Massachusetts bay. To continue the hydrography of the Nantucket shoals, and of the ocean near Nantucket, and of part of Massachusetts bay, including the cost of repairs of vessels and engine, and the fuel for the steam vessel used in the hydrography, and the hire of a vessel to aid in the soundings. Office work.—To make the required calculations and reductions for the work; the reduction and drawing

- of a chart of Muskeget channel, and of the harbors to which it leads; to complete the engraving of a chart of Hyannis harbor, and to continue that of the general coast chart from Point Judith to Cuttyhunk, will require..... $30,500
- SECTION II. Field work.—To continue the magnetic observations required in this section, and the verification and filling up of parts of the hydrography. Office work.—To continue the engraving of the western sheet of the map of Long Island sound; to continue the engraving of the series of charts of harbors of refuge and anchorages of Long Island sound; to engrave a chart of Hell gate, near New York, including the electrotyping of the plates, will require about... 12,500
- SECTION III. Field work.—To continue triangulation southward, including both primary and secondary triangulation; the secondary triangulation outside of the peninsula of the Eastern shore, south of the Virginia line; to commence the triangulation of the Potomac; to make the necessary astronomical and magnetic observations; to continue the hydrography of both eastern and western shores of the Chesapeake, southward to the topography of the ocean shore above Sinepuxent bay, the hydrography of the outer or ocean side from the limits of the present year, near the Isle of Wight shoal, southward, and of the Chesapeake bay to the limits of the triangulation of the present year, including the cost of maintaining (only) a steam vessel for the outside work. Office work.—To make computations and reductions required; to complete the drawing of the second sheet of Chesapeake bay; to continue the engraving of a chart of the harbor of refuge at the entrance to Chester river, will require about.. 32,500
- SECTION IV. Field work.—To continue the triangulation of Pamlico sound, and of the ocean coast to Cape Hatteras, and to complete that of the rivers of Albemarle sound; to make the necessary astronomical and magnetic observations; to complete the topography of the shores of the Roanoke and Croatan sounds; to continue the exploration of the Gulf stream off the coast of this section, including the current expenses of a steam vessel for the purpose. Office work.—To make the calculations and reductions required; to complete the drawing of one sheet of Albemarle sound and its rivers; to complete the engraving of the chart of the Pasquotauk river, and to print and publish the chart; to commence the engraving of the sheet of Albemarle sound, will require about..... 22,000
- SECTION V. Field work.—To complete the primary triangulation between the Edisto base and Charleston, to make the secondary triangulation connected with it, and of Charleston harbor, to extend the minute reconnaissance southward over St. Helena sound, and towards Savannah river; to continue the astronomical observations; to commence the topography of the coast, and the hydrography of the approaches to Charleston harbor; to continue the exploration of the gulf stream off the coast, of this section. Office work.—To make the computations and reductions of the field work will require

$18,500

SECTION VII. Field work.—To continue the reconnaissance of the coast of Florida, and to extend the triangulation from section VIII into this section, will require, including the cost of a small vessel for the reconnaissance party

6,500

SECTION VIII. Field work.—To continue the topography of the shores of Mobile bay, and to complete that of the north shore of Mississippi sound; to continue the hydrography of Mobile bay, and probably to complete it, and to continue that of Mississippi sound. Office work.—To make the calculations and reductions of the work; to commence the reduction and drawing of the first sheet of the coast chart, from the entrance of Mobile bay to New Orleans, along Mississippi sound, to engrave the entrance chart of Mobile bay, and to print and publish it; to commence the engraving of charts of Cat and Ship island harbors, will require about

21,500

SECTION IX. Field work.—To complete the triangulation of Galveston lower and upper bay, and to extend the main and secondary triangulations along the coast to the southward and westward; to commence the topography of Galveston bay, and its hydrography, including the cost of a small vessel for the topographical party. Office work.—To make the calculations and reductions of observations in the section, will require

18,500

SECTION X. Field work.—To continue the general reconnaissance of the coast, and the minute reconnaissance of Puget's sound and its approaches; to make the necessary astronomical and magnetic observations; to continue the triangulations of the western coast, and to commence the hydrography, will require about ...

Secretary of the Treasury.

Table of occupation of the field parties of the coast survey, November, 1847, to November, 1848.

No. of section of survey.	Limits included in several sections.	No. of parties in section.	Operations.	Persons conducting the operations.	Localities of the several operations.
I.	Passamaquoddy bay to Point Judith, including the coast of Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island.	1	Primary triangulation, astronomical, and magnetic observations.	A. D. Bache, superintendent, assisted by Joseph S. Ruth, sub-assistant.	Unkonoonue Mountain, New Hampshire, (part of season.)
		2	Reconnaissance	C. O. Boutelle, assistant	Reconnaissance, for extension of primary triangulation, continued in Maine, (part of season.)
		3	Telegraphic difference of longitude.	S. C. Walker, assistant	Difference of longitude of New York City Hall and Cambridge Observatory, determined by electro-magnetic telegraph.
		4	Secondary triangulation..	Captain T. J. Cram, United States Topographical Engineers, assistant.	Western shore of Massachusetts bay.
		5	Do	C. O. Boutelle, assistant	From vicinity of Boston Harbor to Manchester, Massachusetts, (part of season.)
			Topography.....	Captain A. A. Humphreys, United States Topographical Engineers, assistant.	Inspection and verification of topography of vicinity of Boston Harbor.
		6	Do	H. L. Whiting, assistant, S. A. Gilbert, sub-assistant— (double party)	Topography of peninsula of Cape Cod.
		7	Do	J. B. Glück, assistant	Topography of south shore of Cape Cod. Topography of localities in western passage into Narragansett Bay, near Dutch Island; and of eastern passage, near entrance.
8	Hydrography.....	Lieutenant Comd'g Charles H. Davis, United States Navy, assistant, Lieutenant Commanding J. N. Maffitt, United States Navy, assistant— (double party.)	Hydrography of Nantucket shoals continued. Of Muskeget channel, by Lieutenant Commanding J. N. Maffitt, United States Navy. Observations of tides and currents in Boston Harbor. Report on light-house for Sankaty Head, Nantucket.

II.	Point Judith to Cape Henlopen, including the coast of Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Delaware.	1	Astronomical observations.	Captain T. J. Lee, United States Topographical Engineers, assistant.	Observations of declinations of stars, giving doubtful results for latitude with west point mural.
		2	Magnetic observations... Auxiliary triangulation, (see below.)	Joseph S. Ruth, sub-assistant... Joseph S. Ruth, sub-assistant, and Professor A. G. Pendleton, United States Navy.	Fire Island, (Long Island,) and New Haven. Triangulation, in connection with verification work, hydrography southern side of Long Island.
		3	Topography.....	H. L. Whiting, assistant..... S. A. Gilbert, sub-assistant....	Shore line of Sandy Hook retraced, to show progress of the Hook, (close of season.) Shore line near Hell Gate, Blackwell's Island, tides, &c., retraced.
		4	Hydrography.....	Lieutenant Commanding J. R. Goldsborough, United States Navy, assistant.	Tides and currents observed in Block Island sound. Soundings in Narragansett bay and Newport Harbor. Off-shore work, between southern coast of Rhode Island, and Massachusetts, and Block Island.
		5	Do.....	Lieutenant Comd'g Richard Bache, United States Navy, assistant.	Verification work off south side of Long Island. Off-shore work between Cape May and Martha's Vineyard. Re-examination of Gedney's channel and adjacent shoals.
		6	Do.....	Lieutenant Commanding D. D. Porter, United States Navy, assistant.	Re-examination of Buttermilk channel into New York harbor. Soundings, &c., of Hell Gate.
		7	Do.....	Lieutenant Comd'g Charles H. Davis, United States Navy, assistant.	Examination and report on obstructions of Hell Gate, for Chamber of Commerce, New York.
III.	Cape Henlopen to Cape Henry, including the coast of Delaware, Maryland, and Virginia.	1	Primary triangulation...	Edmund Blunt, assistant, aided by C. P. Bolles, sub-assistant.	Verification work at Poole's Island, Chesapeake bay. Continuation of the triangulation of the Chesapeake, south of the Potomac river. Mr. Bolles assisting, from July to November 1.
		2	Do.....	A. D. Bache, superintendent...	Verification work at Linstid, on Magothy river; continuation of triangulation from Chesapeake bay to Capitol and Observatory, Washington.
			Reconnaissance.....	James S. Williams, assistant..	Reconnaissance in Anne Arundel and Prince George's counties, Maryland.
		3	Secondary triangulation..	John Farley, assistant.....	Continuation of triangulation of outer side of eastern shore peninsula, down Sinepuxent bay, to within the Virginia line.
		Topography.....	J. J. S. Hassler, assistant.....	Shores of Sassafra river completed at close of last season.

TABLE—Continued.

No. of section of survey.	Limits included in several sections.	No. of parties in section.	Operations.	Persons conducting the operations.	Localities of the several operations.
IV.	Cape Henry to Cape Fear, coast of Virginia and North Carolina.	4	Topography.....	R. D. Cutts, assistant, and John Leib, aid—double party.	Topography of Great and Little Choptauk, and of bay shores—of Patuxent and of bay shore south of it.
		5	Topography.....	George D. Wise, assistant.....	Examination of Patapsco; topography of islands south of Kent island; of outer shore from Indian river, southward, to head of Sinepuxent bay.
			Topography.....	J. Crawford Neilson, assistant..	Shores of Chester river completed from previous season.
		6	Topography.....	J. B. Glück, assistant.....	Verification work on the shores of the Patapsco (at close of season only.)
		7	Topography.....	Captain A. A. Humphreys, United States topographical engineers, assistant.	Inspection and verification of topography.
		8	Hydrography.....	Lieutenant Commanding S. P. Lee, United States navy, assistant.	Hydrography of Chesapeake bay from line Cove Point; Meekin's Neck southward; hydrography of outside coast of peninsula of Eastern shore from Indian river inlet to head of. Examination of Sand island inlet for site of light-house.
		9	Hydrography.....	Lieutenant Commanding W. P. McArthur, United States navy, assistant.	Soundings of Great and Little Choptauk rivers, and of Chesapeake bay in vicinity. Report of light-house required on Blakiston's island, in the Potomac.
		1	Measurement of base....	A. D. Bache, superintendent; C. O. Boutelle, assistant.	Measurement of base on Bodie's island commenced.
		2	Main and secondary triangulation.	W. M. Boyce, assistant.....	Completion of triangulation of Albemarle sound and entrance to Roanoke and Chowan rivers, South Carolina.
		3	Astronomical observations.	C. O. Boutelle, assistant.....	Observations for azimuth at Stevenson's Point, and for difference of longitude, by chronometers, with Washington.

		4	Tertiary triangulation...	Alexander W. Longfellow, assistant.	Rivers of Albemarle sound. Alligator river triangulated (part of season.)
		5	Topography.....	J. Crawford Neilson, assistant	Topography of Perquimon's and Little rivers completed, and of northern shore of Albemarle sound (part of season.)
		6	Topography.....	J. J. S. Hassler, assistant.....	Southern shores of Albemarle sound, from Durant's island to head of sound.
		7	Hydrography.....	Lieutenant Commanding W. P. McArthur, United States navy, assistant.	Hydrography. Albemarle sound, and of Pasquotauk river (part of season.)
IV & V.		8	Hydrography.....	Lieutenant Commanding Richard Bache, United States navy, assistant.	Exploration of gulf stream, section No. 3, from Cape Henry southeast, and No. 4 from Cape Hatteras, southeast.
V.	Cape Fear to the St. Mary's river, coast of South Carolina and Georgia.	1	Main triangulation.....	James S. Williams, assistant, C. P. Bolles, sub-assistant.	Base line laid out on Edisto island, and minute reconnaissance for main triangulation from the base northward and eastward to Bull's bay.
VII.	St. Joseph's Bay to Mobile bay, coast of Florida.	1	Reconnaissance.....	F. H. Gerdes, assistant.....	Extension of main triangulation of gulf of Mexico, eastward from Mobile bay. From Perdido bay, east, to Choctawhatchie (part of season.)
VIII.	Mobile bay to Vermillion bay, coast of Alabama, Mississippi, and La.	1	Primary triangulation and secondary connected with it.	F. H. Gerdes, assistant.....	Continuation of main triangulation of the coast of the gulf of Mexico, from Horn island to Cat island and the Chandeleur islands, Louisiana.
		2	Secondary triangulation	C. M. Eakin, assistant.....	Triangulation of Mobile bay, from Cedar Point to Choctaw point, nearly completed.
		3	Secondary triangulation	Julius E. Hilgard, assistant....	Extension of secondary triangulation of Mississippi sound, westward, to lake Borgne.
		4	Topography.....	W. E. Greenwell, assistant ...	Topography of islands south of Mississippi sound, and of main shore on north side of sound.
		5	Hydrography.....	Lieutenant Commanding C. P. Patterson, United States navy, assistant.	Hydrography of Cat and Ship island harbors, and of their approaches. Hydrography of entrance to Mobile bay nearly completed.
IX.	Vermillion bay to the boundary, coast of Tepas.	1	Reconnaissance.....	F. H. Gerdes, assistant, W. E. Greenwell, assistant.	Minute reconnaissance of Galveston lower and upper (Anahuac) bays, and of the coast near Galveston to the southward. (Part of the season.)
		2	Main triangulation and astronomical and magnetic observations connected with it.	R. H. Fauntleroy, assistant, Julius E. Hilgard, assistant, George Davidson, sub-assistant.	Observations for latitude and longitude of Dollar Point, Galveston bay. Chronometer differences of longitude with Pascagoula station, section VIII. Preliminary measurement of base and main triangulation of Galveston bay commenced.

Estimate for salaries of clerks and messenger employed in the Adjutant General's Office and contingent expenses for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1849.

[Remarks and explanations.]

The number of recruits (3,571) required to fill the rank and file of the army for the year commencing July 1, 1849, is calculated as follows :

The number of recruits required for the several regiments of the army September 30, 1848, as nearly as can be ascertained, is.	$652
To which add the number of discharges that will take place by expiration of service from October 1, 1848, to June 30, 1849.	457
Add also the estimated number of casualties by death, desertion, and discharge for disability, &c., for the same period.	1,500
	<hr/>
From the above (2,609) deduct the estimated number that may be enlisted from October 1, 1848, to June 30, 1849.	2,609
Number of recruits required to complete the military establishment June 30, 1849.	359
To the above number of vacancies (359) add the number of discharges on account of expiration of service in the year commencing July 1, 1849.	1,212
Add also the estimated number of vacancies by death, desertion, and discharge for disability, &c., for the same period.	2,000
Total number of recruits (inclusive of re-enlisted soldiers) required for the military establishment, exclusive of the enlisted men for the Ordnance Department, for the year commencing July 1, 1849.	3,571

Estimates of the Pay Department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1850.

PAYMASTER GENERAL'S OFFICE,
October 16, 1848.

SIR : I have the honor, herewith, to submit the estimates of the Pay Department for the fiscal year commencing the 1st of July, 1849, and terminating the 30th of June, 1850.

Paper A shows the amount required to pay the army proper as organized under the late acts of Congress.

Paper B is the estimate for the Military Academy, which is $3,168 less than that of last year ; being a reduction in the article of officers' forage from a war to a peace allowance.

Paper C is the estimate of the Paymaster General's Office. I have added eight hundred dollars to this for the salary of one clerk, the business of the office requiring all the clerks provided for it by the act of 20th of April, 1818.

Respectfully, your obedient servant,

N. TOWSON, P. M. G.

Hon. W. L. MARCY,
Secretary of War.

A.

PAYMASTER GENERAL'S OFFICE,
October 16, 1848.

N. TOWSON, P. M. G.

HON. WILLIAM L. MARCY,
Secretary of War.

QUARTERMASTER GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington city, November, 1848.

SIR: I have the honor to submit estimates of the funds which will probably be required for the service of the quartermaster's department, under the several heads of expenditure, for the fiscal year commencing the 1st of July, 1849, and terminating the 30th of June, 1850, marked A, B, and C.

A is the estimate for the quartermaster's department proper; and, though made upon the best data attainable, must be considered as a mere approximation to the truth. The great increase of our territory, and the consequent long routes over which troops have to be marched, and supplies to be transported, would have caused nearly a fourfold increase of several of the items of expenditure, had the army remained as it was organized in 1845; but the mounted force has been increased about one-third, and the whole force nearly a fourth, by the legislation of Congress since 1845.

The sum asked for regular supplies is as small as I can venture to make it. It is one hundred thousand dollars less than the appropriation for the present year.

The item for incidental expenses is reduced seventy-five thousand dollars below the appropriation for the present year. I hope the sum estimated will be sufficient, but it will require vigilant and energetic administration to make it do so.

The sum required for mounts and remounts is the same as the ap-appropriation for the present year; it may not all be required, but there would be some risk in reducing it.

The item for barracks and quarters is the same in amount as the appropriation for the present year; it cannot safely be reduced.

The item for mileage is of the same amount as the appropriation for that object for the present year; with the most rigid administration it will barely be sufficient.

The item for transportation for the army is reduced below the appropriation for the present year, seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars. I would not have ventured on so great a reduction but for the assurance that a portion of the transportation by water is hereafter to be performed by the navy, and that this item may be reinforced by the sale of our surplus means of transportation remaining from the war, such as steamers and other vessels, horses, wagons, mules, oxen, &c.

The present estimate, in all its items together, is nine hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars less than the appropriation for the present year, under similar heads, or for similar objects.

B is the estimate for the regular clerk hire and contingencies in this office, and the office at Philadelphia. The increase in the item for contingencies of this office is rendered necessary by the greatly increased business of the office, and by the accidental omission in the appropriation for the present fiscal year, of eight hundred dollars, estimated and necessary for the office in the present year.

C is submitted, and the amount will be annually necessary, for extra clerk hire, until the business of the war with Mexico be closed, which, it is believed, will not be for some two years to come.

The amount in the treasury, on account of clothing, equipage and equipments, with the large amount of clothing and other supplies in the depot at Philadelphia, will render an appropriation for the purchasing branch of the department unnecessary.

The balance in the treasury, on account of army contingencies, will probably be sufficient, and nothing is asked on that account for the next fiscal year.

I have the honor to be, sir, your obedient servant,

TH. S. JESUP,

Quartermaster General.

The Hon. WM. L. MARCY,
Secretary of War, Washington city.

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSARY GENERAL OF SUBSISTENCE,
Washington, October 27, 1848.

GEO. GIBSON, C. G. S.

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSARY GENERAL OF SUBSISTENCE,
Washington, November 6, 1848.

SIR: I have the honor to state that the amount of funds now in the Treasury, and applicable to "Army Subsistence," is much larger than I had heretofore calculated on; and I am gratified to have it in my power to add that no appropriation on account of "Army Subsistence" will be necessary to be made for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1850.

In the Treasury this day, subsistence funds.....	$2,054,573 52
From which deduct amount required to subsist the army from this date to June 30, 1849.....	$415,000 00
Also deduct the supposed amount of outstanding debts to be paid in this and the next fiscal year.....	200,000 00
	615,000 00
Leaving in the Treasury, applicable to subsistence.....	1,439,573 52
From which deduct the probable amount that will be required to subsist the regular army in the service of the United States from July 1, 1849, to June 30, 1850.....	508,189 50
Leaving in the Treasury, June 30, 1850.....	931,384 02

Data upon which this estimate of the probable amount that will be required to subsist the regular army from July 1, 1849, to June 30, 1850, has been made.

One company of engineers.....	100 men.
Two regiments of dragoons.....	1,230 do.
One regiment of riflemen.....	765 do.
Four regiments of artillery.....	2,608 do.
Eight regiments of infantry.....	4,192 do.
Ordnance men at arsenals.....	500 do.
Women to companies and detachments.....	550 women.
Total number of persons.....	9,945

9,945 persons, at 14 cents per diem, 365 days..... $503,189 50

It will be thus seen that after subsisting the army during the remainder of the present fiscal year (to June 30, 1849,) and for the next fiscal year, (from July 1, 1849, to June 30, 1850,) and also after paying all outstanding debts, there will remain in the Treasury the sum of $931,384 02, which will be applicable to the subsistence of the army for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1851.

Most respectfully, your obedient servant,

GEO. GIBSON, C. G. S.

Hon. WILLIAM L. MARCY,
Secretary of War.

Total of office expenses.....	<hr/> 10,650

Explanations and details of the foregoing estimates.

1. ARMAMENT OF FORTIFICATIONS.

Required to continue the preparation of the armament of permanent fortifications, and for the preservation and repair of that already provided. The appropriation under this head will be applicable to the procurement of sea coast and garrison guns, columbiads, howitzers, and mortars; projectiles; timber, iron, and other materials used in preparing the armament of forts; and to the expenses of constructing and repairing gun carriages, pent houses, implements and equipments.

2. ORDNANCE, ORDNANCE STORES, AND SUPPLIES.

This item of the estimate is for procuring siege and field artillery; timber, iron, leather or other materials for siege and field carriages, implements, equipments, and harness; accoutrements for cavalry, artillery, infantry, and riflemen; for the expenses of fabricating and repairing siege and field carriages, harness, implements, and equipments; for providing materials for siege and field ammunition, and preparing the same. It is the ordinary annual estimate.

3. ORDNANCE SERVICE.

Under this head is contained the amount estimated to be requisite for defraying the expenses during the year, of receiving, issuing, repairing, and keeping in good order, the arms and other ordnance stores and public property at the different arsenals and ordnance depôts; for procuring the usual supplies of fuel, stationery, and forage; and for other incidental expenses of the service.

4. NATIONAL ARMORIES.

This amount is necessary for carrying on operations at the two national armories on the usual scale.

Repairs and improvements at the national armories.

The details and explanations of this part of the estimate, are as follows, viz:

5. HARPER'S FERRY ARMORY.

1. For constructing a grinding mill, saw and planing mill.....	$9,730
2. For constructing a barrel welding, tilt hammer, and swedging shop, 200 x 50 feet.....	17,900
3. For new machinery for the foregoing shops.....	27,370

4. For repairs to finishing shop; fitting up shelves and racks for patterns, and coloring the exterior of buildings	2,675
5. For completing paymaster's quarters and necessary outbuildings	3,645
6. For cisterns for dwelling houses.....	1,300
	<hr/>
Amount.....	62,620
	<hr/>

Remarks:

1. This building, to accommodate the machinery and fixtures for grinding, sawing, and planing, is necessary to replace the present make-shift structures, used for these purposes with great inconvenience and loss. The present grinding mill has its floor below the surface of the ground, and is covered during freshets to a depth of sometimes five feet. The saws and turning laths are at present in the machine shop, among filers and iron workers, for want of power and a better locality elsewhere; whilst the planing machine is equally out-of position in a shed put up on the side of one of the shops, and not well secured from the weather. The present structures are also much decayed, and are only kept in use by frequent repairs, to the delay of the operations of the armory.

2. To replace the present barrel welding and tilt hammer shop, which has all the defects, but in a greater degree, of the other old shops, which have had to be reconstructed; being dark and badly ventilated, with its floor so low that every freshet covers it, sometimes to the depth of eight feet. There is also now a separate wheel and gearing for each hammer, eight in all, six of which are tub wheels utterly useless when submerged; having thus lost 26 working days last year, and 52 the year before, besides considerable damage to the perishable parts of the machinery by the frequent floodings. The present forebays and penstocks supplying the wheels are of wood carried through the ground, and require frequent repairs, and entire renewal every few years. Whilst these repairs are in hand, a suspension of the manufacture of arms is necessary, causing embarrassment to the operations of the armory and much loss. This is a measure of pressing importance.

3. There will be required for the building mentioned in the first item of this estimate, two turbine wheels, with iron feeding trough and penstock, shafts, and bevel gearing; a main line of driving shafts, with pullies, hangers, belting, &c., for the grinding mill; and machinery with pullies, &c., complete, for driving upright and circular saws, turning lathes, planing machine, and tenoning, grooving, and boring machines. For that in the second item, eight tilt hammers for welding barrels, rods, &c., including water power and gearing; two double tilt hammers for drawing barrel plates and tilting iron and steel, with driving power and gearing; large shears, with gearing; driving machinery for four sets of drop hammers, for swedging components; blowing machine and air pipe, and fitting up large grindstone and gearing. The whole of these are essential to the proper and economical conducting of operations at this armory.

4. The finishing shop requires gutters and down spouts, and a ceiling of boards for the upper story, the old lath and plaster ceiling being broken by the driving machinery. The patterns, which are very numerous and valuable, have now no special place of deposit, and suffer for the want of order and management. Some of the buildings only being colored, it is proposed, for uniformity and preservation, to color them all with a uniform fast wash.

5. The original estimate for officers' quarters was based upon prices paid for laying brick in the shops which had been erected on the river bank; but the more elevated site of the quarters, on the hill, rendering it necessary to haul all the materials, used in their construction, up a steep ascent, the cost was thereby so increased as to require this addition to the previous estimate.

6. The cost of these cisterns will exceed the original estimate, and the appropriation which has been made therefor, owing to several causes, among which is the quantity of rock excavation, and the necessity for making a cess-pool, or receiving well, for each cistern, with strainers, to prevent the conductors from being choked up. The cost and inconvenience of frequent repairs will more than justify the latter work.

6.—SPRINGFIELD ARMORY.

1. For finishing the interior of the new arsenal, putting up gun racks, and painting arsenal, store-house, and other buildings.....	$20,000
2. For an addition to the south shop, on the hill, and connecting it and the north shop with a centre building, and for additions to, and repairs of, the two buildings north and south of the new arsenal.....	21,000
3. For enlarging the reservoir north of the machine shop	1,500
4. For general repairs and improvements.....	5,000
5. For a store-house for iron, steel, files, &c., &c.....	10,000
6. For making new and repairing old machinery.....	10,000
7. For removing the rolling mill, so called, and rebuilding it at the upper water shop.....	15,000
	82,500
	82,500

Remarks:

1. There being no suitable vacant buildings for storing finished arms, it is important that arrangements for their reception in the new arsenal should be completed as soon as possible. There are now some 40 or 50,000 percussion muskets, which are without a proper place for storage.

2. Most of the operations now performed at the shops on Mill river may be transferred to those on the hill with advantage to the establishment and economy in the work done. To accommodate the machines and the workmen on the hill additions to the present shops will be required.

3. A reservoir has already been formed, by means of a dam across the ravine. By raising this dam about ten feet it will cause the water to flow back into the well under the engine room, and afford a permanent and abundant supply of water for the boiler and small reservoirs, and other purposes.

4. This item includes the repair of dwelling houses, shops, arsenals, storehouses, fences, culverts, sidewalks, roads, and gutters, laying water and gas pipes, and grading and general improvement of grounds.

5. The present machine shop has been used for storing iron, steel, files, and articles of a like character, for which there are daily calls. A suitable building for this purpose only is much needed.

6. Considerable progress has already been made in substituting greatly improved machines, made of iron, for the antiquated wooden machines heretofore in use. Much advantage results from the substitution, and it is proposed to continue it.

7. When the pond at the upper water shop shall have been raised, as proposed, it will afford abundant power for armory purposes, and the work now done at the several shops on Mill river can then be concentrated at this point, and much more conveniently and economically executed than now, when the shops are scattered. In this case the middle and lower shops may be sold or otherwise disposed of as may be most advantageous.

7. ARSENALS.

The amount of this item is made up from the estimates of the commanding officers of the different arsenals and ordnance depots, as revised and modified at the ordnance office. The details and explanations are as follows, viz.

Apalachicola arsenal.

For repairs and preservation of public buildings, roads, culverts, &c.....	$500.
---	--------

Remarks:

To keep the post in good order.

Baton Rouge arsenal.

For a new fence around the magazine lot, and repairs and preservation of other enclosures.....	$1,500.
---	----------

Remarks:

The fence now around the magazine lot is much decayed; the posts have rotted off, and it is held up in many places by props. It is proposed to erect a much more durable one, and also to make the requisite repairs to other enclosures with the amount estimated.

Champlain arsenal.

For repairs of public buildings, enclosures, &c..... $400

Remarks:

The cornice and eaves troughs of the quarters are decayed, and require renewing, and the foundation of the stable at one corner requires relaying. Enough is also included to keep the post in good order in other respects.

Charleston arsenal.

1. For enclosing the arsenal ground.....	$5,000
2. For building out houses for barracks and quarters	300
3. For completing the filling up, levelling, and grading the marshy ground.....	2,000
	<hr/>	$7,300

Remarks:

1. The fence around the arsenal grounds requires renewing in a more substantial manner than the present one, the posts of which, inserted in the ground, soon decay. It is proposed to have a foundation of brick, with an open fence on top.

2. Essential for the convenience of the occupants.

3. Requisite to complete this work, in consequence of the settling of the earth and other substances used in filling up.

Detroit arsenal.

1. For rebuilding the picket fence on the front and west sides of the arsenal grounds....	$200
2. For a house over the reservoir and forcing pump.....	100
3. For covering the arsenal buildings with tin, 350 squares	3,500
	<hr/>	$3,800

Remarks:

1. The present fence, along these sides of the public ground, is so much decayed that most of it requires renewing.

2. To keep them from the effects of the weather.

3. The slate roofs are so much broken as to require constant repairs, which cost much and do not make them tight. The ice and snow of winter injure the slates so much as to render it advisable to replace them with tin.

Fort Monroe arsenal.

1. For new roof to timber shed, paint shop, and store-house.....	$950
2. For painting and repairing public buildings and fences	500
3. For filling in and grading the low grounds, near the stables	1,250
	<hr/>	$2,700

Remarks:

1. This is an extensive building, the roof of which is so much decayed as to require renewing.
2. Requisite for the proper preservation of the public property.
3. This is a marshy piece of land, on the west side of the fort, the reclaiming of which is much needed for ordnance purposes. Ground enough will be acquired thereby to extend the shed room for the accommodation of gun carriages, and other public property, which is demanded by the circumscribed limits of the arsenal within the fort, and the crowded condition of the public stores.

Frankford arsenal.

1. For the erection of a guard-house.....	$400
2. For repairs and preservation of public buildings, enclosures and grounds.....	500
3. For a new flag staff	125
		$1,025

Remarks:

1. There is no guard-house at this arsenal. It is proposed to erect one at the main entrance, large enough to accommodate the guard of the post.
2. To keep the public buildings and post in good order.
3. The present flag staff is decayed and too weak to support the flag.

Kennebeck arsenal.

1. For repairing and painting public buildings and cistern.....	$1,150
2. For setting a palisade enclosure around the magazine, and extending the road thereto.	450
3. For repairs of embankments, culverts and water pipes	300
		1,900

Remarks:

1. The office and the kitchen of the quarters require considerable repairs, and several buildings want painting to preserve them. The cistern requires laying in cement to make and keep it tight.
2. For the security of the magazine, and to have easy access to it.
3. To make good damages done by the frosts and rain.

Little Roek arsenal.

For continuing the construction of this arsenal.....	$5,000
--	---------

Remarks:

This is an unfinished arsenal, in course of construction; the sum stated is for continuing it according to the approved plan.

Missouri depot.

For repairs and preservation of public buildings, enclosures, roads and grounds..... $900

Remarks:

The wood work of the public buildings requires painting for its preservation; the fence posts are nearly all rotten and require renewing, and the road, from the arsenal to the landing on the river, must be repaired and kept in order.

Mount Vernon arsenal.

For repairs and preservation of public buildings, bridges, roads and enclosures..... $1,000

Remarks:

To keep the post in good order.

New York depot.

For repairs and preservation of public buildings, enclosures, &c $500

Remarks:

To keep the post in good order.

North Carolina arsenal.

For continuing the construction of this arsenal, including some essential repairs to finished buildings $16,155

Remarks:

This is an unfinished arsenal in course of construction; this amount is for erecting buildings, according to the original plan, for armorers,' tanners,' and harness makers' shops, and the north-east and southwest towers. The fences require repairs and the arsenal building, finished in 1838, wants repainting.

Pikesville arsenal.

1. For slate roofing for gun and timber store-houses.....	$200
2. For repairing and painting buildings and fences.....	175
	—	$375

Remarks:

1. The present roofs are old and decayed, and sufficient slate to cover them is on hand, taken from other buildings.

2. The fence on the front line of the arsenal grounds requires painting, this amount also provides for incidental repairs.

Rome arsenal.

For repairs and preservation of public buildings, enclosures, &c $500

Remarks:

To keep the post in good in order.

St. Louis arsenal.

1. For building a small magazine within the arsenal enclosure.....	$4,000
2. For a coal-house and commissary's store, with rooms above for laboratory stores and materials, and for clothing.....	4,071
3. For addition to the stable.....	500
4. Renewing the enclosing fences of the post, and of the wood and lumber yards.....	1,010
5. Repairs of quarters.....	500
	————	$10,081

Remarks:

1. To keep on hand a sufficient quantity of powder for immediate use in the laboratories, and thus avoid the necessity of frequently sending to and opening the main magazine, necessarily located at a distance from the arsenal buildings.

2. Much inconvenience and additional expense are caused by not having a store-house for a large stock of coal, to lay it in when it is abundant, and can be procured on good terms; the price varies from 10 to 50 cents a bushel. About 7,000 bushels were used last year, and much of the variation in price would be saved by having a suitable coal-house. The room now used for a commissary's store is too small, besides being taken off from the hospital, to which it properly belongs and for which it is much wanted. The other store-rooms to be contained in this building are required for the proper safety and preservation of public property.

3. The stable now in use is partly of stone and partly of an old frame building, much decayed and totally unfit for storing straw and grain, for which it is the only place. It is dangerous from its liability to take fire. It is proposed to substitute a small stone addition to the stable.

4. The fences, built at the first establishment of the post, are almost entirely decayed and require renewing.

5. The flooring of the uncovered piazza on the north side of the quarters is decayed, and the leakage through it will injure the rest of the building. It is proposed to repair the floor and cover it with a roof.

Washington arsenal.

1. For alteration of quarters (west building)	$1,900
2. For rebuilding wharf on the eastern branch	600
		$2,500

Remarks:

1. To raise the wing of these quarters one story—an alteration essential to furnish the necessary rooms.

2. This wharf has become unsafe from irregular settling and from decay.

Watertown arsenal.

1. For platform scales.....	$275
2. For new piazza floor for barracks.....	200
3. For removing wooden stable.....	250
4. For current repairs, including lightning rods for store-house.....	600
		$1,325

Remarks:

1. To weigh heavy loads or other articles. At present, hay, straw, or other articles, requiring to be weighed, have to be driven a mile, and the weighing to be paid for.

2. The flooring of the piazzas is much decayed, and will require renewing next year.

3. This wooden building must be removed to afford a proper site for the new timber-house.

4. To keep the post in good order, and to guard against accidents from lightning.

Wateroliet arsenal.

1. For repairing and altering the north brick quarters.....	$3,000
2. For painting public buildings.....	800
3. For brick walls around two magazines....	3,000
		$6,800

Remarks:

1. These quarters require new roofing, flooring, ceiling, and painting inside. It is also proposed to take down the massive chimney stack in the centre of the building and erect two chimneys on the sides, which will add much to the size of the rooms and the convenience of the building.

2. Some of the buildings that have been several years painted, require a new coat, such as the long timber house, the smiths' shop, and carriage makers' shop.

3. The pickets of the fence around the magazine are much de-cayed. It is proposed to replace this fence by brick walls with openings suitable for ventilation.

Contingencies $10,000

Remarks:

To provide for such unforeseen expenditures as may become necessary during the year.

Total for arsenals $74,261

8. PURCHASE OF LOT AT HARPER'S FERRY ARMORY.

The near approach of this lot to the armory offices, from which it is only eleven yards distant, renders it very desirable that it should be in possession of the government. It may now be purchased for the small sum estimated for; otherwise it may be made a source of great annoyance with a view to compelling its purchase at an exorbitant price.

9. PURCHASE OF LAND AT SPRINGFIELD ARMORY.

See remarks to item No. 9, of the estimate for Springfield armory. The sum heretofore appropriated for flowage will not be sufficient to cover the damages, and the amount stated will be required in addition.

10. PURCHASE OF MAGAZINE SITE AT ST. LOUIS ARSENAL.

The land around the present site of the great magazine at this arsenal in south St. Louis, has become so thickly populated, that the magazine has, from fear of explosion, and the consequent depreciation of property around it, become a source of great anxiety to the people, who have petitioned for, and will continue to demand its removal. In one or two years it will probably have to be moved, and a new site, at some secure point, without the range of city population, should be secured.

PENSION OFFICE, October 31, 1848.

J. L. EDWARDS;
Commissioner of Pensions.

K.—An estimate of the amount of funds which will probably be required for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1850, to pay revolutionary pensioners inscribed on the rolls under the act of March 18, 1818, and the laws supplementary thereto; as well as invalids, widows and orphans, under the various acts of Congress granting pensions.

Revolutionary pensioners, under the act of March 18, 1818.
As the number now on the rolls under the act of March 18, 1818, considerably exceeds the number of pensioners paid during the present year, I have taken the last mentioned number as the basis of the calculation, making allowance for deaths in 1849 and 1850. In the course of the fiscal year, terminating on the 30th June, 1850, the number of pensioners under this law will be reduced, most probably, to eight hundred. These, at an average of $98 per annum for each pensioner, will require	$78,400 00
But as there will be in the treasury, on the 30th June, 1849, an unexpended balance of.....	50,000 00
An appropriation of only $28,400, will be necessary for the fiscal year ending on the 30th June, 1850.....		$28,400 00
Invalid pensioners.
Two thousand three hundred and twenty-nine invalid pensioners have been paid during the first two quarters of the present calendar year. These, at an average of $100 per annum for each pensioner, would require $232,900. But, as the number will be increased, in consequence of the late war with Mexico, it may safely be calculated, notwithstanding the number of deaths which will occur, that there will be at least two thousand eight hundred to provide for during the fiscal year ending on the 30th June, 1850. At an average of $100 per annum for each pensioner, $280,000 will be wanted to pay them	280,000 00
But as there will be an unexpended balance in the treasury on the 30th of June, 1849, of $8,000, applicable to the payment of invalid pensioners.....	8,000 00
An appropriation of only $272,000, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1850, will be necessary for invalid pensioners.....		272,000 00
Widows and orphans' pensions, under the act of July 4, 1836.
Under the first section of the act of July 4, 1836, there will probably be on the rolls, during the ensuing fiscal year, the widows and children of fifty deceased officers and soldiers, whose husbands or fathers died several years since, and who will be entitled to the whole five years' pension at one payment. These, at an average of sixty dollars per annum each, for five years, will require, for the fiscal year ending on the 30th of June, 1850, the sum of.....	15,000 00
To pay pensions of widows who now receive stipends under the 3d section of the act of July 4, 1836, who will probably be on the rolls in 1850, making due allowance for deaths, there will be required for eight hundred widows, at an average of $80 each per annum, the sum of.....	64,000 00
And for twenty more, who will probably be added to the pension list within the ensuing fiscal year, arrears for fifteen years, at an average of $80 each, annually, there will be required.....	30,400 00
Making an aggregate of.....	109,400 00

K.—Estimate of funds required for pensions—Continued.

But as there will be in the treasury, on the 30th of June, 1849, an unexpended balance of	$109,400 00
No appropriation will be necessary to pay pensioners under this act during the fiscal year ending on the 30th June, 1850.
Widows' pensions, under the act of February 2, 1848.
The first section of the act of the 2d of February, 1848, entitled "An act making further provisions for surviving widows of the soldiers of the revolution," gives a pension, during widow- hood, to every widow of a revolutionary officer or soldier who was married prior to the year 1794. It embraces, of course, the cases of all widows heretofore pensioned, under the acts of July 7, 1838, March 3, 1843, and June 17, 1844. It is not, therefore, necessary to ask for an appropriation to pay the three last mentioned classes of pensions. They are all merged in the act of February 2, 1848; and, to pay under this act, we shall require, for three thousand five hundred pensioners for one year, at an average of $30 for each pensioner, the sum of	280,000 00
But as there will be an unexpended balance in the treasury at the end of the present fiscal year of	148,000 00
It will be necessary to appropriate only $132,000 for this class of pensioners		$132,000 00
Widows' pensions, under the acts of July 7, 1838, March 3, 1843; and June 17, 1844.
A number of claims, under these laws, remain unsatisfied. Some widows, whose proof is not yet perfected, may claim from one to ten years' pension, and I estimate not less than seventy of this description. These, at an average of $100 each, will require	28,000 00
But as there will be a sufficient sum in the treasury to pay them for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1850	28,000 00
No appropriation is asked.
Pensions to widows and orphans, under the act of July 21, 1848.
Under this act there may probably be pensioned, during the fiscal year ending on the 30th June, 1850, the widows, and orphans of three hundred officers and soldiers. These, at an average of $30 each per annum, will require		24,000 00
		456,400 00

Remarks.

The estimate for compensation of the Secretary of War and clerks and messengers of his office is the same in amount as the appropriation of last year.

The estimate for contingencies shows an increase of one thousand five hundred dollars over the appropriation for the year 1848-'9, being the amount for the item for extra clerks in the War Department. From the year 1836 to the year 1844, inclusive, annual appropriations of about $3,000 were made for extra clerks in lieu of the regular compensation of five clerks of the lower grades, authorized by the act of April 20, 1818, for whom there was only occasional employment, and whose places remain vacant, as explained in a letter of the Secretary of War to the Committee of Ways and Means of February 9, 1836. The sum of $3,000 a year being rather more than was required, a balance had accumulated in 1845 which has sufficed to the present time: it is now nearly exhausted, and the appropriation asked above will be required for the labor necessary in answering calls for information during the first session of the next Congress.

The estimate for arrearage is in consequence of the employment of a clerk, at $1,400, under the act of April 20, 1818, not appropriated for at the last session of Congress. It has been customary to transfer clerks from this office to the bureaus of the department when there might be a great press of business; and the force of this office being found to be too much weakened by the transfer of a clerk, at $1,600, to the Pension Office, and one, at $1,400, to the Adjutant General's Office, where their services are still required, it became necessary to fill up the number allowed by law for this office by the appointment of the clerk for whose compensation the above estimate is made. The number of clerks of that grade, authorized for the office of the Secretary of War by the act of April 20, 1818, is five, of whom one is estimated for in the Indian Office, one in the Adjutant General's Office, and the remaining three in this office.

M—Continued.

Estimate for compensation of the superintendent and watchmen of the northwest executive building during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1850.

	Amount.
For superintendent, per act August 26, 1842, Statutes at Large, vol. —.....	$250 00
For 4 watchmen, at $365 each.....	1,460 00
	1,710 00

Estimate for contingent expenses of the northwest executive building during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1850.

	Amount.
For rent of 60 (sixty) additional rooms, properly warmed, at $150 each.....	$9,000 00
For labor, fuel and light.....	2,400 00
For miscellaneous items.....	1,600 00
	13,000 00

The above estimate exceeds the appropriation of last year by $500, being the difference between the appropriation of $8,500 for rent of additional rooms and the present estimate of $9,000 for the same object, the increase arising from the fact that, while the rooms were to be occupied for but a portion of the current fiscal year, it is proposed to retain them during the entire fiscal year now estimated for.

Chief of Bureau.

No. 3.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
Bureau of Construction, Equipment and Repairs,
November 1, 1848.

SIR: I have the honor to transmit, in conformity with your instructions, estimates for the fiscal year ending 30th June, 1850, embracing that portion of the naval service coming under the cognizance of this bureau, accompanied by statements exhibiting the rates and disposition of all vessels belonging to the navy of the United States, in commission on the first day of November, 1848; the number and rate of those in ordinary, those on the stocks, (the building of which is suspended,) those in progress of construction, and those undergoing repairs; also reports of the estimated value of articles received and expended, and the amount and cost of labor upon objects connected with this bureau during the last fiscal year.

The estimated value of articles on hand at the different navy yards, at the commencement and close of the period referred to, is shown in the table containing the amount of receipts and expenditures during that time, a schedule of which is annexed for reference.

The estimate for the repairs and equipment of the number of vessels required to keep up a force equal to that now in commission, is not greater than is absolutely necessary for that purpose.

The estimates for the naval service, for the next fiscal year, have been considerably reduced, as will appear by comparing those for the coming with those for the current year. This reduction is owing to the withdrawal from service of the steamers and bomb vessels employed along the shores and in the rivers of Mexico, during the late war with that power, and the reduction of the number of men for the naval service, in pursuance of an act of Congress, of 10th August, 1846.

Since the last annual report, the ship of the line "Vermont" has been so far completed as to launch. This measure was rendered necessary to avoid the constant danger to which she was exposed, from her contiguity to the boundary wall of the yard, which separated the ship house but a few feet from buildings outside, combustible in themselves, and containing combustible materials. Upon one occasion the "Vermont" was with difficulty saved from fire, which occurred without the limits of the yard. The destruction of the ship would, in all probability, have involved the entire ruin of the dock and yard. She is now afloat, protected from the weather by a substantial cover.

Since the period referred to, the brig Boxer and schooner Experiment have been sold as unfit for service; and the sloop Austin broken up, being unworthy of repairs. The schooner Onkahye was wrecked in the Caicos passage; and steamer Petrita, (captured from Mexico,) lost at Alvarado. The following steamers, bomb, and other vessels, withdrawn from Mexico at the close of the war, have been since sold, viz: steamers Spitfire, Scorpion, and Scourge; bomb vessels Ætna, Stromboli, Vesuvius, and Hecla; schooners Bonito, Reefer, Mahonese, Falcon, and Tampico.

The four first class steamers building, viz: the Saranac, at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, San Jacinto, at New York, Susquehannah, at Philadelphia, and Powhatan, at Norfolk, with their engines and machinery, are progressing satisfactorily. It is believed the unexpended balance, appropriated by Congress for their construction, will be sufficient to complete them. The Saranac will be launched in a few days.

Since the last report a system of rules for the inspection and measurement of timber has been formed and established, which it is hoped will be the means of preventing embarrassment, and prove highly advantageous both to government and contractors. The bureau, after a careful investigation of the results of a series of experiments, commenced in the year 1832, and, aided by the experience of competent and practical men, has adopted a system for the preservation of timber, from which may be anticipated the happiest results.

Since November last, there has been delivered by contract and obtained by open purchase, by the agents employed for that purpose, at St. Louis, Missouri, Louisville, and Kentucky, three hundred and seventeen tons of water rotted hemp, which being submitted to the customary tests at the rope walk, at Charlestown, proved of good quality.

As too short a time has elapsed to test fully the canvass prepared by Dr. Earle, or that by Mr. Darrow, no satisfactory information can be given, portions being on the coast of Africa and West Indies. So soon as the results are known, they will be reported.

I am, sir, respectfully, your obedient servant,
CHAS. WM. SKINNER.

Hon. J. Y. MASON,
Secretary of the Navy.

SCHEDULE OF ESTIMATES, &c.

- A.—Estimate for the expenses of the bureau.
- B.—Estimate for pay of persons employed in vessels in commission.
- C.—Estimate for the increase, repair, &c., of the navy.
- D.—Estimate for enumerated contingent.
- E.—Statement of vessels in commission.
- F.—Statement of vessels in ordinary.
- G.—Statement of vessels on the stocks or building.
- H.—Statement of vessels broken up, sold, or lost.
- I.—Statement of the value of receipts and expenditures.
- J.—Statement of the number of days' labor performed, and its cost.

A.

Estimate of the amount required for the expenses of the Bureau of Construction, Equipment and Repairs, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1850.

	Estimate for the year ending June 30, 1850.	Estimate for the year ending June 30, 1849.
For salaries of the Chief of the Bureau, clerks and messenger	$13,600 00	$13,000 00
For chief naval constructor	3,000 00	3,000 00
For engineer in chief.....	3,000 00	3,000 00
	19,600 00	19,100 00
For contingent expenses of the bureau, for blank books, binding, stationery, printing, and labor	700 00	450 00
For miscellaneous items.....	300 00	200 00
	1,000 00	650 00

NOTE.—The increase of $500, in the estimate for salaries, is in consequence of the addition to that of the Chief of the Bureau, under the act of August 12, 1848, making his salary equal to that of other captains in the navy at the head of bureaux. There being no appropriation, however, to meet the additional sum, he has been paid only as before the passage of the act. The addition of the $350 to the estimate, for the contingent expenses, is found necessary, as the sum appropriated for the current year is not sufficient to meet the actual necessities of the bureau.

CHAS. WM. SKINNER.

B.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, October 30, 1848.

SIR: In compliance with your order of the 16th instant, I have the honor to submit the following statement of the fiscal condition of the Naval Medical and Surgical Department.

Amount of appropriation for surgeons' necessaries and appliances remaining on hand, June 30, 1848.....	$19,246 08
Amount appropriated by act of Congress approved August 3, 1848.....	28,500 00
Total....	47,746 08
Balance of surgeons' necessaries and appliances in the Treasury, October 1, 1848.....	37,192 46
Amount of naval hospital fund in the Treasury, October 1, 1848.....	209,856 19

The unexpended balance under the head of "Medicines Arrearages," represented by my last report as in the Treasury of the United States, November 1, 1847, does not now appear, having been transferred to the surplus fund as required by section 2d of act of Congress approved May 1, 1820.

The estimated expenses of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery for the year commencing July 1, 1849, as presented in table A, are.....

$7,370 00

The amount of "Surgeons' necessaries and appliances" required to meet the demands of the force afloat, navy yards, naval stations, and marine corps, for the year as above stated, as estimated in table B, is.....

$38,500 00

In this sum the support of the naval asylum and naval hospitals is not included, being derived from the naval hospital fund; to the present prosperous condition of which I would, with pleasure, invite your attention.

Since the date of my last report a numerous force has been withdrawn from the Gulf of Mexico; and the consequent return of the medical officers attached, suggests to me this agreeable opportunity of testifying to the energy and success with which their duties have been performed. It is but justice to those whose labors have been as unostentatious as the results here recorded have been creditable to their professional skill that the chief of this bureau should accord the praise so well deserved.

The returns from foreign stations afford gratifying evidence that our squadrons abroad have been exempt from epidemic disease.

It will be seen by table C that the number of surgeons and assistant surgeons required for duty the ensuing year differs somewhat from that presented in my last estimate. To explain the fact that a larger number of surgeons should be needed to meet the wants of a diminished number of ships, I would observe that this is owing to the change in the character of the force to be maintained. In place of the smaller vessels employed of late, and entitled only to assistant surgeons, a less numerous, but larger class, will now be kept afloat, requiring the detail of senior officers. For the same reasons, the complement of assistant surgeons estimated as necessary to the sea and home service will be found decreased. The number of each grade remaining, after the disposition proposed in the statement above referred to, will be 13 surgeons and 7 assistant surgeons; a reserve manifestly inadequate to meet the exigencies of permanent and temporary disability, attendance upon examination, and the repose required after long and arduous cruising.

During the past year five sloops-of-war entitled to the services of the higher grade have been, of necessity, officered by assistant surgeons.

With the hope that these circumstances will ensure your favorable consideration of the measure for the moderate increase of the medical corps as proposed to, and partially sanctioned by, the last Congress,

I am, sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

THO. HARRIS.

HON. JOHN Y. MASON,
Secretary of the Navy.
