Mr. Dibrell, from the Committee on Military Affairs, submitted the following

REPORT:

[To accompany bill H. R. 1320.]

The committee, having had bill H. R. 1320 under consideration, respectfully submit the following report:

From the letter of Col. John Gibbon, of the Seventh Infantry, which is herewith filed and asked to be made a part of this report, it appears that in the expedition against the Nez Percé Indians in August, 1877, thirty citizens of the Territory of Montana volunteered their services and served with the United States troops in that expedition; that five of the number were killed, four wounded, and twenty-one survived.

Your committee think, under the circumstances, that the services of these men were invaluable to Colonel Gibbon and his command, and that the amount allowed them of one dollar per day would not reach the amount they would have received had they been regular soldiers, entitled to clothing and other allowances.

A similar bill passed the House at the last Congress, went to the Senate, and passed that body, but failed in the House on Senate amendments for want of time.

Your committee unanimously recommend the passage of the bill.

To Adjutant-General, U. S. A.

Sir: I have the honor to report that the following-named citizens of Montana Territory accompanied me as volunteers in the late expedition against the Nez Percé Indians; most of them were in the battle on the 9th and remained faithfully with us till the last.

Those who were killed and wounded are marked in the margin.

I trust some provision may be made by law by which these parties may be placed
