IN SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES.

JANUARY 13, 1834.

Read, and ordered to be printed.

MR. TIPTON made the following

REPORT,

With Senate bill No. 58.

The Committee of Claims, to whom was referred the petition of Hiram A. Hunter, report:

That it appears in evidence the petitioner was orderly sergeant in a company of militia guards commanded by Captain Robert F. Crittenden, on the campaign against the Seminole Indians, and, in consequence of the failure of the United States to furnish the necessary forage, lost his horse in the said service. This being one of those cases which have been invariably provided for when the facts have been satisfactorily established, it remains only for the committee to state, that, by the testimony before them, the value and the loss of said horse have been so established; and it appears from the affidavit of the claimant that he has not received any compensation from the United States for said horse. The committee therefore report a bill for his relief.
